QUOTABLE WHAT WOULD DOLLY DO?

“She’s the way I want to look. I’ve always been comfortable with that. You should base your style on what makes you feel good. It doesn’t matter if you’re fashionable or not, because it’s fashionable to be real. Even if you look fake, you can be real—just be honest with yourself.”

Canadian entrepreneur Barb Stegeman has been out to save the world—and make money doing so—ever since she founded her perfume company, 7 Virtues, in 2010. It’s based on trade and bringing value to farmers in war-ravaged or impoverished regions such as Rwanda and Haiti for a fair price, helping to bring reliable income to communities that are struggling to survive. One of the company’s forerunners, Nebia Rose of Afghanistan, helped farmers transition from the dangerous heroin-poppy market to selling rose oil, legally and with pride.

At the Atlantic Film Festival in Halifax, where the documentary 7 Virtues premiered on September 21 at the Toronto Music and Film Festival in Hanifa, where Stegeman lives. For her latest fragrance, Stegeman teamed up with Canadian actor and director Deepa Mehta’s critically acclaimed film, Field. She also met up with Canadian actor and director Deepa Mehta, who directed the performance in Deepa Mehta’s critically acclaimed film, Field.

BY NATASHA BRUNO

Pop star Ariana Grande is back in the spotlight and ready for her voice to be heard. Her latest album, Dangerous Woman, is a departure from her earlier work, but such a breath of fresh air—just what my soul needed at this point.”

The album, which was released in May, has become a critical and commercial success. Grande has been open about the personal experiences that inspired her music, including her battle with body-image issues and her personal struggles with fame.

“A lot of these songs were written during a really low period in my life,” Grande said in an interview with Billboard. “I just felt so lost and so alone and so scared and so afraid of what was coming next.”

The title track, “Dangerous Woman,” is a powerful statement about the singer’s strength and resilience. “I’m not perfect, but I’m a better version of myself,” she sings. “I know I’m not perfect, but I’m just me.”

Grande’s newfound confidence is evident in her performances, where she exudes a sense of empowerment and self-assurance. “I’m not perfect, but I’m beautiful,” she sings in the chorus of “Be Alright.”

The album also features collaborations with high-profile artists, including Nicki Minaj and Future. “Side to Side” with Minaj is a fun, upbeat dance track, while “No Tears Left to Cry” with Future is a more introspective song about moving on from heartbreak.

Grande has also been involved in several philanthropic efforts, using her platform to raise awareness for important causes. She recently announced a new partnership with MAC Cosmetics to launch a Viva Glam lipstick in support of people living with AIDS.

“Being involved in these types of projects is really important to me,” Grande said in a statement. “I feel like I’m in a position to make a difference and I want to use my voice to make a positive impact.”

Grande’s success and growth are a testament to her determination and resilience. As she continues to evolve as an artist and as a person, she remains true to herself and her vision.

“It all depends on my mood and what I’m feeling,” Grande said. “I have my days where I feel sexy and sassy, and I have my days where I feel like saying, ‘Hell yeah, here I am!’ It’s honest, be free and be who you are. It’s kind of saying be all of you.”

What’s next for Grande? “I’ll be going on tour next year,” she said. “I’m also going to be on NBC’s Hairspray Live! musical on December 7, which is very exciting. I get to play Penny, which has been a dream role of mine since I was literally 10 years old. I remember worshipping Kerry Butler, who was the original Penny, and the fact that I get to play this role now is so crazy, it’s completely separate from the pop world, but such a breath of fresh air, just what my soul needed at this point.”
TREND ALERT

THE COLD SHOULDER

The off-the-shoulder trend established itself as a full-fledged summer move—most, but as temperatures begin to dip, the style is evolving into something a touch more refined. With heavier knits featuring peekaboo sleeves and asymmetrical lines popping up at Saint Laurent, Lanvin and Baja East, it’s definitely a look we can stand shoulder to shoulder with. —Veronica Saroli

MELISSA’S Musts FOR FALL 16

Cozy and chic all wrapped up in one fab sweater: R/R, TNT THE NEW TREND

I have a very cute pair of black and white shoes but unlike this that has basically paid for itself 10 times over in compliments. It’s those boots that are getting pretty beat up. The good news is that I found these… See … I am a glass half full type person (or shall I say, shoebox half full!).

NINE WEST

In my mind, there are closet “basics”, “classics” and “showstoppers.” This one blurs the lines so I am going to create a new category, “basically fabulous”.

PINK TARTAN

One of the biggest trends this season is also one of my favourites. Think: romantic, Victorian-inspired and very feminine. My pick of the “period pieces” at BV… this gorgeous dress from Sandro.

W Les Femmes, SANDRO

Sometimes a little furry goes a long way. Here, it takes a somewhat ordinary clutch from 0 to 100.

BROWNS

You know what I say about this chic-y, studded lips clutch? Mwah!

3AM Forever, SANDRO

For the most part, I’m a “dress girl” but there are definitely days when I just want to grab a pair of pants and a pair of flats and get on with my day in a really comfy, yet stylish way. To that end, these would be great to have at the ready.

TALBOTS

I have a very cute pair of black and white shoes not unlike this that has basically paid for itself 10 times over in compliments. The bad news is that they are getting pretty beat up. The good news is that I found these… See … I am a glass half full type person (or shall I say, shoebox half full!).

I think this would be a great addition to my wardrobe… the black in the pattern means I can team it with all that black I already have and still add a pop of colour to the outfit mix.

You know what I say about this chic-y, studded lips clutch? Mwah!
